DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I. Claim(s) 1-9, drawn to variant HGF protein with altered cleavage site, nucleic acid encoding said protein, expression vector and host cell, classified in class 530, subclass 350, class 536, subclass 23.5, class 435, subclass 320.1, class 435 subclass 325.

II. Claim(s) 10-14, 19, drawn fragment of hepatocyte growth factor protein consisting essentially of amino acids 1-424 of wild type human hepatocyte growth factor, nucleic acid sequence encoding said protein, expression vectors and host cells, classified in class 530, subclass 350, class 536, subclass 23.5, class 435, subclass 320.1, class 435 subclass 325.

III. Claim(s) 15, 16, 21, 22, 25, and 26, drawn to an HGF polypeptide consisting essentially of amino acids 1-424 in an alpha chain and amino acids 425-494 in an alpha chain, classified in class 530, subclass 350.

IV. Claim(s) 17, drawn to method for activating HGF, classified in class 435, subclass 41.

V. Claim(s) 18, 20, 23, 24, 27, 28, drawn to an HGF polypeptide consisting essentially of amino acids 425-494 of human HGF, classified in class 530, subclass 350.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Although there are no provisions under the section for "Relationship of Inventions" in M.P.E.P. § 806.05 for inventive groups that are directed to different products, restriction is deemed to be proper because these groups constitute patentably distinct inventions for the following reasons. Groups I-III and V are directed to products that are distinct both physically and functionally, are not required one for the other, and are therefore patentably distinct. Each of the proteins are unique structurally and functionally as are the nucleic acids encoding said proteins. Additionally, full length hepatocyte growth factor and variants thereof are known in the art (1994. US 5,316,921, abstract) and variants are shown to have different structures and functions than the wild-type HGF. Furthermore, each of the variants recited in Inventions I-III and IV require separate search and consideration. The search of each of these variants would not be coextensive and would present a serious search burden.

Inventions I-III and V and Invention IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the proteins and/or nucleic acids of Inventions I-III and V are not made by or utilized in the methods of Invention IV.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and separate search requirements, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an of invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Shulamith H. Shafer, Ph.D. whose telephone number is 571-272-3332. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday, 8 AM to 5 PM.
